INJUNCTIVE RELIEF AND PUNITIVE DAMAGES, ALONG WITH PLAINTIFF'S STATE TORT
CLAIMS UNDER HIS STATE CIVIL
RIGHT'S ARTICLE 1 § 6, §11
AND §12.
CV. _____
TRIAL BY JURY DEMANDED

COGAN, J.

10 NOW COMES BEFORE THE COURT, plaintiff Keith Haywood, who 11 alleges the following;
12

13 JURISDICTION

14 1. This Court has jurisdiction over these matters
15 under 42 U.S.C.A. §1983, as well as the plaintiff's State
16 Constitutional Law tort claims. All of the events took 17 place within the Eastern District of New York. There are 18 no grievance procedures at Phoenix house.
19

20 PARTIES

21 2. Plaintiff Keith Haywood, at all times of the allega-
22 tions complained of, resided at Phoenix House located at 23 34-25 Vernon Boulevard, Long Island City, N.Y. 11106.

24 3. Defendant Phonix House at L.I.C., is a Corporation
25 and/or incorporation set up as a residential drug treatment
26 center, and has many such center's throughout the U.S.A.
27

STATEMENT OF FACTS

4. During the month of September 2011, plaintiff was on parole and during an office visit, he tested positive for cocaine. Plaintiff was then ordered by his parole officer to take an out patient drug program.

5. Plaintiff went to St. Vincent, an out patient clinic, located on Rockaway Parkway, Brooklyn, New York 11236.

6. Plaintiff was treated for cocaine abuse. [nasal inhalation].

7. All plaintiff's future drug testing were negative for any drugs and treatment was successful.

8. On November 4, 2011, plaintiff reported to Brooklyn III parole office for his scheduled appearance. During the report, plaintiff was given a drug test, which came back negative for any drugs. Plaintiff was then violated for a curfew rule.

9. Plaintiff then spent the next four [4] month's on Riker's Island, until he agreed to a residential drug treatment program, for the purpose of obtaining housing and employment.

10. On March 19, 2012, plaintiff was released and picked up by an agency called cas[s]. They then transported the plaintiff and about 5 other gentlemen to the different assigned intake centers. I was taken to the East 119th Street and

1 third Avenue, New York, N.Y.

2 11. After process, plaintiff was then transferred to
3 defendant's L.I.C. residential center [a co-ed facility],
4 located in Queens, New York.

5 12. Upon entry, plaintiff was given a full screen drug
6 test, which came back negative.

8 13. During an interview by one of the counselor's, it
9 was determined that the plaintiff did not belong there,
10 especially since he has been drug free since last year.

11 14. Plaintiff then informed the counselor that he was 12 sent by parole, the counselor then stated that if your 13 mandated here then there's nothing he or anyone could do,
14 regardless if you belong here or not. Parole dictates your 15 treatment here.

16
17 15. During plaintiff's stay at L.I.C., he was forced 18 into getting welfare, whereas the plaintiff has never had 19 welfare in his life.

20 16. Plaintiff was not allowed to obtain employment or 21 seek permanent housing.

22 17. Plaintiff during his stay was subjected to "Peter 23 pay Paul" treatment along with the other 218 residents, to 24 wit, if one resident broke a rule, then the whole community
25 suffered, by loss of weekend passes, walks to the park, no
26 store privileges, outside privileges within the facility
27 court yard, etc., without any type of due process or hearings
28

1 in violation of New York State Constitution and my State
2 civil rights.

3 18. Plaintiff on many occasions even after making
4 complaints, the practice still went on, where staff at this 5 place, violated plaintiff's State Constitutional Right's to 6 privacy, to wit without knocking on either the door to the 7 room, or the bathroom, staff would just walk in on you
8 deliberately, just to see what you were doing, or to catch
9 you in some type of conduct.
10

11 19. This is a practice that they do all the time. I
12 have been caught nude on many occasions [coming from the 13 shower], changing into clean clothes, and I have been 14 violated through this policy, practice, custom, of being seen
15 "exposed" using the toilet in the private bathroom located in 16 each room, which has no locks on the doors.
17

18 20. A reasonable prudent person would not invade other's 19 privacy like that in a similar situation, especially when 20 using the single toilet bathroom.

21 21. The custom or practice of doing this "push open"
22 the door policy is embarrassing, brought loss of dignity,
23 shame, and a loss of personal privacy, especially when using 24 the bathroom. This occurred throughout the month of April
25 2012.
26

27 22. This created a sexual hostile living condition
28 and environment.

1 23. Furthermore, illegal room searches would occur on
2 the regular, either in your presence or outside it.

3 24. The defendant also had a poor visiting schedule
4 where your family and friends could come see you. The only
5 time was every Sunday from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

7 25. However, if someone did something wrong, or if the 8 counselor[s] felt they were disrespected by a number of 9 residents, the visiting day would be terminated for everyone
10 without any type of hearing or due process, just from their 11 peter pay paul policy and/or custom.

12 26. The defendant also forces you to commit welfare
13 fraud. They assess you and determine that you don't belong
14 there, but because parole mandated you there, they have to 15 keep you. If you refuse to agree/or sign papers that state
16 "voluntary" on it, you are threaten with failure to comply,
17 to wit, you could be put back in jail once they contact your 18 "legals" to advise them of your refusal, disagreement, and 19 unwillingness to sign a voluntary statement form, which is 20 a violation of your freedom of speech and censorship.
21

22 27. Plaintiff was diagnosed as abusing cocaine through
23 inhaling. However, because the plaintiff has been drug free
24 since 2011 of September, plaintiff was told that he didn't
25 belong there, that this place was for people with heavy
26 dependence on drugs.
27

28 28. Furthermore, if you were accused of a rule violation

1 either by staff or residential structure,¹ you were then
2 given either a week or sometimes even a month of cleaning
3 pots, dishes, or some other task or worse, you lost your
4 privilege to your weekend pass without a hearing or any type
5 of due process, in violation of the Articles of the State
6 Constitution.

9 AS FOR A FIRST SEPARATE CAUSE OF ACTION

10 VIOLATION OF THE PLAINTIFF'S PROTECTED STATE
11 CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHT'S AND CIVIL RIGHTS

12 MONELL CLAIMS

13 29. Plaintiff repeats the averments contained in para-
14 graph(s) 1-28, as if fully stated herein.

15 30. Defendant is being sued under a Monell claim in 16 relationship to their custom, policy, rules, regulations,
17 bi-laws, practices, and directives, which infringed upon the 18 plaintiff's State Constitutional Civil Rights.
19

20 31. Said policies supra, did create the following:

- 21 a). a hostile living condition in regards to plaintiffs
22 expected privacy, while using the single toilet
23 bathroom and dressing after a shower, without 24 knocking first before entering these area's;

25 ¹ Structure are [o]ther resident's who have moved on to the 26 next level as overseers of the community who are given
27 specialprivileges and can give other residents "write-ups"
28 reports, which lead to automatic disciplinary punishment, without due process, or any typeof hearings. They also are suppose to keep law and order within the community.

- 1 b). peter pay for the acts of paul custom(s) in
2 regards to punishing everyone for the actions
3 of the few, without any type of hearing under 4 due process of law, and if you complain about 5 it, your threaten with the contacts of your
6 legals for failure to comply (this includes
7 visits, recreation, store privileges, and 8 lounge room use, etc.);
- 9 c). punishment handed out for violating a rule,
10 policy, supra, without any type of due process;
- 11 d). short visit hours from 1 p.m. till 4p.m. every 12 Sunday;
- 13 e). illegal room searches in your presence or 14 outside your presence without probable cause;
- 15 f). denying plaintiff and residents from drawing
16 interest off their money by having a separate
17 bank account for savings.

18 32. Plaintiff was subjected to these customs supra,
19 on a regular basis.

20 33. Defendant knew or should have known, that they were 21 violating the plaintiff's State Constitutional Civil Rights,
22 which were clearly established at the time of the violation.

23 WHEREFORE, plaintiff Keith Haywood, is suing the defend-
24 ant in the amount of ONE MILLION DOLLARS ($1,000,000.00.),
25 for mental anguish, violation of my State Constitutional
26 Civil Rights, and punitive damages to prevent this conduct
27 from continuing, and whatever relief this Court deems just 28 and proper.

1 AS FOR A SECOND SEPARATE CAUSE OF ACTION

2 INVASION OF PRIVACY CREATING A SEXUALLY
3 HOSTILE LIVING CONDITION UNDER VARIOUS STATE LAW(S)

5 34. Plaintiff repeats the averments contained in 6 paragraphs 1-28, and 30-33 of the First Separate Cause of 7 Action.

9 35. Defendant employees did on numerous times through-
10 out April 2012, pulled open the bathroom door, without 11 knocking or announcing themselves, to wit, catching this 12 plaintiff sitting nude from the waist down, using the 13 bathroom, and twice catching the plaintiff in the process
14 of wiping himself clean.
15

16 36. Defendant employees did on numerous times push
17 open the room door to plaintiff's private living quarters
18 without knocking first, catching the plaintiff fully 19 nude, either in the process of drying off or in the 20 process of putting his leg through his under wear garments
21 trying to get dressed.
22

23 37. Defendant knew or should have known that their 24 policy, custom supra, violated the plaintiff's clearly
25 established and protected State Civil Rights.
26

27 38. Defendant's conduct through their employees,
28 caused this plaintiff to be shamed, embarrassed, humiliated, demeaned, violated sexually, and nervous about using the

1 bathroom and putting a chair in the door to block it from
2 opening, when coming out of the shower.

3 39. Defendant's employees conduct, caused this
4 plaintiff to hold his bowels during the day, causing pain,
5 in order to use the bathroom during the late night hours.

6 WHEREFORE, plaintiff Keith Haywood, is suing the 7 defendant in the amount of TWO MILLION DOLLARS ($2,000,000.00)
8 for mental anguish, past sufferings through this sexual 9 harrassment and invasion of privacy, and punitive damages to 10 prevent this type of custom supra from continuing, and 11 whatever relief this Court deems just and proper.
12

14 AS FOR A THIRD SEPARATE CAUSE OF ACTION

15 42 U.S.C.A. §1983
